Explore Kowloon City

擁有悠久歷史的九龍城區，一棟棟唐樓，一間間老店林立，大街小巷裡都能感受到舊城區的獨特氣息。經過保育及活化後，現已成為一處新舊共融的個性地區，有不少新潮店鋪及餐館進駐，成為全新遊港地點。

Kowloon City may be a historic multicultural neighbourhood, but with recent renovations and transformations, it is now a neighbourhood that allows you to experience both Hong Kong's historic side and newer landmarks.

九龍城好味道

Delicacies in Kowloon City

多個來自亞洲各地的族群在這裡扎下了根，形成自己的文化社區。你能在「小泰國」找到新鮮的東南亞香草、水果和香料，品嚐香辣的泰國美食；同時，大批祖籍粵東的潮州移民也聚居於此。這兩種不同文化還相互交融，創造出一種嶄新而獨特的魅力。由廣東燒味、港式茶餐廳、泰國料理、到摩登咖啡店等，你都可以在九龍城盡情品嚐。

In Kowloon City, you'll find streets that are home to some of Hong Kong's most robust cultural communities. Little Thailand is a go-to spot for fresh Southeast Asian herbs, fruits and spices, not to mention deliciously spicy meals. There's also a large community of Chiu Chow people who trace their origins to eastern Guangdong — and in some cases, both Thai and Chiu Chow cultures have merged to create something fascinating and unique.

Enjoy the delicacies in Kowloon City, from Canton style BBQ meat, Hong Kong style cafes, Thai cuisine to modern cafés.

The quality of the produce in the Kowloon City Market draws famous visitors like film star Chow Yun-fat, who is sometimes spotted buying his groceries here. Many stalls are vendors selling imported fruits from Southeast Asia, including mangos, rambutan and — most exotic of all — durian.
